

Genesis selects Irish leasing software firm Sysco for their enterprise platform

Dublin – 14th January 2019: Genesis today announced that it has selected leading Irish software firm Sysco Leasing Software as their enterprise provider for their commercial aircraft leasing business. Genesis will work with the Sysco Leasing Software platform to provide secure, real-time access to transactions, assets, leases and financials for the team and its airline customers.

Sysco Leasing Software is a full-featured aircraft leasing software built upon a secure, cloud managed platform providing a comprehensive suite of deal management, lease and asset management features covering technical, financial and resource planning functionality. Sysco Leasing Software is built upon the security of the Microsoft Dynamics technology stack for enterprise businesses and underpinned by real-time state-of-business intelligence and a futureproof development roadmap.

Commenting on the announcement, Cian Mackey, Chief Operating & Financial Officer of Genesis, said, “As a global aircraft leasing firm with a footprint in 30 countries, we require an integrated solution that will handle the full breadth of what we want to offer our customers, whilst at the same time providing Genesis with a platform that can scale with us over the coming years.”

Dara Weston, Senior Aviation Leasing Software Consultant at Sysco Leasing Software added, “The appointment of Sysco Leasing Software as Genesis’ preferred leasing software provider underpins their development as a world-class, full-cycle leasing platform. Sysco Leasing Software’s Deal Manager and Lease Manager will support them in achieving this target.”
