

Genesis adds additional A320 aircraft with Heston Airlines

Successful Partnership between growing European ACMI/ Charter airline and global lessor continues

1st October 2024: Genesis, the Dublin based commercial aircraft leasing company, announced today that it has added a 6th A320 passenger aircraft with Heston Airlines, a successful and growing European ACMI/ charter airline.

Genesis CEO Karl Griffin stated, "Genesis are excited to acquire this additional A320 with Heston Airlines, continuing to support the airline's growth plans enabling them to become a best-in-class ACMI and Charter operator. Our co-operation began in 2020 in extremely challenging times, and our belief in their team, business model, and the continued performance of the airline since its launch made it an easy decision to enhance our partnership with Heston."

Heston CEO Jonas Rinkauskas commented, "We are thankful for our distinguished partners Genesis, who continue to put their trust and confidence in Heston Airlines. Over the past four years the partnership has evolved significantly, driven by our commitment to understanding each other's unique needs. Together, we're on track for even more significant results in the future, fostering a relationship built on shared goals and success."
